

Sudan Summit

Friday, June 20, 1:00 p.m. - Saturday, June 21, 2008, Noon

Terrace Hotel, Lake Junaluska, North Carolina

Holston Conference invites you to attend the first Sudan Summit, to be held at Lake Junaluska, North Carolina, on Friday and Saturday, June 20 and 21. This important meeting related to the work of The United Methodist Church among the people of Southern Sudan will include Bishop Daniel Wandabula and other representatives of the East Africa Annual Conference, as well as persons representing the General Board of Global Ministries.

We are inviting any local church, Sunday School class, UMW or UMM group, or any other United Methodist entity that is currently working through the East Africa Annual Conference for the work of the United Methodist Church in Southern Sudan. Any United Methodist group planning to begin work in Southern Sudan is also invited to attend this exciting event and learn how we can work together to develop better understandings of the needs, the work to be done, and our shared ministry in this region.

See below for registration information and plan to join us. If you will be attending the UMWIM Connect event, you may join us by extending your stay for one day. We hope you will come as we pray for progress in our mutual quest for peace and care for all God's children.
